Notes on the Contributors

Aigul Absametova – Candidate of Economic Sciences, MS in Management, University of Edinburgh, UK. Analyst at the EDB Strategy and Research Department, Economic Analysis Unit. Work experience includes consulting, banking, international development institutions and educational sectors and businesses. E-mail: absametova_am@eabr.org.

Ella Baybikova – MBA, Nottingham University Business School; as a Head of Strategic Planning Unit (Eurasian Development Bank) is responsible for the formulation of EDB’s strategy. She has extensive experience in various areas of banking. She has a particular interest in the financial development institutions activities in the region of Europe and Central Asia. E-mail: baybikova_er@eabr.org.

Mikhail Golovnin – Candidate of Economic Sciences (2003). Deputy Head of the Centre on Globalisation and Integration of the Institute of Economics of the Russian Academy of Sciences. Graduate of Economics, Lomonosov State University, Moscow (2000). Author of over 60 research publications, including papers published by the leading economic magazines. One of the authors and editor of the collective monograph Interaction of CIS Financial Systems. Winner of the President of the Russian Federation’s bursary competition for young Russian scientists, candidates of science and their research supervisors (2006-2007), winner of the Russian Academy of Sciences Best Economist award in 2004-2005 and 2008. His specialist interests include currency and financial integration, monetary and credit policy, and financial globalisation. E-mail: cpgre@mail.ru.

Nikolay Kaveshnikov – Ph.D. in political science, Head of the Centre for Political Integration Studies at the Institute of Europe of the Russian Academy of Science, associate professor of the Moscow State Institute of International Relations (University). Author of individual monograph Transformation of the Institutional Structure of the European Union (Navona, Moscow, 2010) (in Russian) and about 60 articles and chapters in collective monographs and textbooks. Editor and co-editor of five collective monographs, including European Union and Russia: Trust Building Principles and Strategy of Dialogue (RSUH, Moscow, 2009), EU-Russia Relations on the Eve of Change (Aksiom, Moscow, 2009), Toward the Treaty on Strategic Partnership between the European Union and Russia (Rossia-Neva, St. Petersburg, 2007) (all in Russian). His current research focus is EU institutional development, EU energy policy and EU-Russia relations. Selected articles are available at: http://www.mgimo.ru/users/document1521.phtml. E-mail: nikandrrrr@mail.ru.

Elvira Kurmanalieva – Ph.D. in international economics from National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies, Japan and M.A. in public policy from Saitama University, Japan. Currently holds a position of Head of the Country Research Unit of the EDB Strategy and Research Department. Prior to joining EDB worked at the Asian Development Bank Institute, National Bank of the Kyrgyz Republic, Research Institute of Economy, Trade and Industry of Japan. Taught macroeconomic policy, international economics and microeconomics at American University of Central Asia, and International Christian University. Author and co-author of a number of works on international trade and investments in China and Southeast and Central Asia. E-mail: kurmanalieva_es@eabr.org.

Aleksandr Libman – Doctor of Economic Sciences (2010), Ph.D. (University of Mannheim, 2010), Assistant Professor of the Frankfurt School of Finance & Management, Senior Researcher at the Institute of Economics of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Associate of the Centre of Russian Studies of the East China University. Main scientific interests: empirical political economics, political economics of regional integration and federalism. Winner of the Knut-Wicksell Prize of the European Public Choice Society (EPCS, 2010). Main publications in European Journal of Comparative Economics, Europe-Asia Studies and leading Russian and Chinese scientific magazines. Author and co-author of five monographs. E-mail: alibman@yandex.ru.

Natalia Maqsimchook – MSc Business Studies; Senior Analyst at Economic Analysis Unit of the EDB Strategy and Research Department. More than ten years of experience in the UN system organisations. She has contributed to various publications on the issues of good governance, regional development, and external aid coordination. E-mail: maqsimchook_nv@eabr.org.

Gauhar Ormantayeva – M.A. in International and Development Economics, University of San Francisco, USA. Currently holds a position of Analyst in the Country Research Unit of the EDB Strategy and Research Department. Prior to joining Eurasian Development Bank, Gauhar worked in Portfolio and Risk Management Group at State Street Corporation in London, UK. E-mail: ormantayeva_ga@eabr.org.

Dmitry Poletaev – Ph.D. in economics, leading researcher at the Institute of Economic Forecasting of the Russian Academy of Sciences. E-mail: dmitrypoletaev@yandex.ru.

Botagoz Rakisheva – Ph.D. in social studies, director of the Institute for Comparative Social Research CESSI-Kazakhstan, programme director at the Institute of Social and Political Research. E-mail: bota.rakisheva@cessi.kz
Notes on the Contributors

Darya Ushkalova – Candidate of Economic Sciences (2008), researcher at the Centre for Russian Economy Globalisation Issues, Institute of Economics of the Russian Academy of Sciences. Graduated from the Lomonosov Moscow State University (Foreign Socioeconomic Geography, 2004). Author of about 30 papers and monographs including Regionalisation Processes in the Post-Soviet Space: the Challenges of Russian-Belarusian Integration (2010). Her scientific interests embrace economic integration in the post-Soviet space, regional economic integration theories, issues of foreign trade and foreign policy in the CIS and political and economic cooperation between Russia and Belarus. E-mail: ushkalova@mail.ru

Evgeny Vinokurov – Ph.D., Director of the Centre for Integration Studies at the Eurasian Development Bank, author of four individual and three collective monographs, including A Theory of Enclaves (2007), Kaliningrad: Enclaves and Economic Integration (2007), The CIS, the EU, and Russia: The Challenges of Integration (2007, with Katlijn Malfliet and Lien Verpoest), and the EDB Eurasian Integration Yearbook. Chief Editor of the Journal of Eurasian Integration, published by the EDB since 2008. His current research focus is economic integration in Eurasia. Selected articles and reports are available at: www.eabr.org/eng/publications/ and www.vinokurov.info. E-mail: vinokurov_ey@eabr.org.

Aleksandra Yakusheva – Junior Researcher of the Centre on Globalisation and Integration of the Institute of Economics of the Russian Academy of Sciences. Graduate of Geography, Lomonosov State University (2007). Postgraduate student of the Institute of Economics of the Russian Academy of Sciences. Author of a number of research publications. Her specialist interests include relations in the Russia–Ukraine–the EU triangle and integration in the post-Soviet space. E-mail: alexandra.yakusheva@gmail.com.